Before the Arbiter for Financial Services

Case No. 149/2018

FK

('the Complainant' or 'the Member')

Momentum Pensions Malta Limited

(C52627) ('MPM' or 'the Service Provider' or 'the Retirement Scheme Administrator')

Sitting of 28 July 2020

The Arbiter,

PRELIMINARY

Having seen the Complaint made against Momentum Pensions Malta Limited ('MPM' or 'the Service Provider') relating to the Momentum Malta Retirement Trust ('the Retirement Scheme' or 'Scheme'), this being a personal retirement scheme licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority ('MFSA'). The Retirement Scheme is established in the form of a trust and administered by MPM as its Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator.

Having considered the particular circumstances of this case, the Arbiter decided to deal with this case separately from those cases made against the Service Provider in relation to the Scheme that were treated together in terms of Article 30 of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta. This decision was taken given a particularity of the case in question where the Complainant had an existing insurance policy and underlying investment portfolio held on trust with another trustee and which policy and investment portfolio were then transferred and assigned to MPM as trustee of the Retirement Scheme following the Complainant's membership with the Retirement Scheme. This will also be taken into consideration in the 'Compensation' section of this decision.

The Case in question

The Complainant submitted that she had invested her teacher's pension through Continental Wealth Management ('CWM') in 2011. It was explained that the trustee at the time withdrew its support of CWM stating a difference in their way of working and that they did not like the use of structured notes. The Complainant further explained that she was informed by CWM that she should not worry as her new trustees, MPM, will protect her investments and look after her interests.

It was submitted that the Complainant expected MPM to ensure that her pension was invested as per her risk profile in low to medium investments and not in high risk professional investor structured notes.

The Complainant noted that MPM took over as the new trustee at the end of October 2013 and the subsequent losses increased. It was claimed that she had never seen the information that she was now submitting with this case until recently. The Complainant claimed that MPM as trustees did not act in her interests and did not protect her pension.

It was claimed that whilst looking through documents she received recently, the Complainant discovered that not only her signature was the same, but in many instances, it was identical, if only occasionally reduced or enlarged in size. The Complainant noted that she was under the impression that as trustees MPM was to check and validate signatures and make sure that the client had signed the document recently. It was further submitted that not only were the signatures identical, but her name was missing a letter on at least nine different occasions, reflecting what the Complainant felt was a lack of due diligence, attention to detail and complete negligence on the part of her trustees.

The Complainant also claimed that MPM accepted business from an unlicensed advisory firm, CWM, using unqualified advisers. It was submitted that her signature was then used to place her funds in high-risk structured notes used mostly by experienced investors, when her risk profile stated that she had low to medium risk. The Complainant further claimed that these investments were made without her knowledge or consent.

It was also noted that MPM had apparently already agreed to reimburse one of its disadvantaged clients in full and that such client suffered in exactly the same way as her.

The Complainant requested her pension, GBP111,000, to be returned to its original value with the refunding of all fees, commissions and lack of growth. The cancellation of exit fees was also requested. The Complainant submitted that whilst she accepted that growth was difficult to determine, she would accept the return of her pension in full plus the return of all the fees which she had paid for work that has not been completed/executed.

In its reply, MPM essentially submitted the following:

1. That Continental Wealth Management ('CWM') is a company registered in Spain. Before it ceased to trade, CWM acted as adviser and provided financial advice to investors. CWM was authorised to trade in Spain and in France by Trafalgar International GmbH ('Trafalgar'). Global Net Limited ('Global Net'), an unregulated company, is an associate company of Trafalgar and offers administrative services to entities outside the European Union.

2. That MPM is not linked or affiliated in any manner to CWM, Trafalgar or Global Net.

3. That MPM is not licensed to provide investment advice.

4. MPM raised the plea that the complaint relates to conduct which occurred before the entry into force of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta on 18 April 2016. In this regard, MPM submitted that the Complaint was filed on the 10 July 2018 and argued that this was beyond the two-year time period allowed by Article 21(1)(b) of the said law. MPM further submitted that for these reasons, the Complaint cannot be entertained.

   MPM also stated that without prejudice to its defence that it is not responsible for the Complainant's claims, more than two years have lapsed since the conduct complained of took place, and therefore, pursuant to Article 21(1)(c) of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta, the complaint cannot be entertained.

5. In reply to the Complainant's complaints, the Complainant must at the outset clarify her reply in Section of the complaint, enquiring whether the conduct complained of is currently the subject of a law suit before a court or tribunal as the Complainant has crossed out 'No' in her reply.

6. MPM noted that in the first place, the Complainant had appointed her adviser and that the Complainant itself states that she invested her pension through CWM. It was further noted that in spite of this, MPM is not aware of any attempt by the Complainant to initiate proceedings against CWM or its officials and/or Trafalgar and/or Global Net, which advised the Complainant to invest in products which have led to the Complainant's losses. MPM noted that additionally, it cannot reply with respect to any advice the Complainant received from CWM.

   MPM stated that CWM has ceased trading and is no longer operating and that this was the only reason why the Complainant has filed a claim against MPM and not against CWM. MPM submitted that it is CWM and/or Trafalgar who is the proper respondent to this claim.

7. The Service Provider noted that prior to Momentum, the Complainant's pension was administered by Confiance Pension Services Limited and that MPM took over with effect from the 29 October 2013 where an in-specie transfer took place. The SEB policy valuation dated 31 October 2013 shows that policy value at that date as GBP92,353.29 not GBP111,000.

8. MPM noted that it is not in a position to comment on the reasons why the Complainant replaced Confiance Pension Services Limited in 2013. In relation to the Complainant's statement that Confiance Pension Services Limited informed her that 'they did not like the use of structured notes', MPM replied that the SEB policy valuation dated 31 October 2013 shows that structured notes were already held in the SEB policy before the transfer to MPM.

9. MPM referred to the statement made by the Complainant that she 'expected Momentum to ensure my pension was invested as per my risk profile'. With respect to the investments made, MPM replied that the investments made were in line with the Complainant's risk profile and in line with the investment guidelines applicable at the time of the Complainant's application with MPM.

10. The Service Provider noted that it charges a fixed fee for the services that it provides and that this fee does not change regardless of the underlying investment which the Complainant was advised to invest into by CWM. It was claimed that MPM did not accordingly stand to make any gain or benefit from any particular underlying investment.

11. MPM pointed out that it is aware that Old Mutual International Ireland Limited ('OMI'), the bond provider,[1] has initiated legal action against one of the structured note providers (Leonteq Securities AG) for losses incurred by the ultimate holders of the bonds, such as the Complainant. It was noted that it is OMI, and not MPM, who was pursuing litigation against Leonteq.

12. With respect to the Complainant's reference to MPM's request for the Complainant to send information available, MPM replied that this related to MPM's request for the Complainant to send the information available to her in relation to her own complaint which she made against MPM.

13. MPM referred to the statement made by the Complainant that she has found 'that not only is my signature the same, but in many instances it is identical, if occasionally reduced or enlarged in size'. MPM replied that the Complainant must clarify whether she is alleging that her signature was forged, as she did in her initial complaint to MPM. MPM also noted that furthermore, the Complainant must also clarify whether she is directing her allegations against CWM or Momentum. MPM submitted that if the Complainant did discover any forgery or wrongdoing by CWM, she must explain why she did not take any steps against CWM. MPM further submitted that additionally, the Complainant must prove her allegations.

MPM noted that if the Complainant is referring to dealing instructions, such documents are not completed by MPM. The Service Provider further submitted that it has no awareness or line of sight of what discussions and arrangements take place between the Complainant and her appointed adviser, CWM, regarding dealing instructions.

MPM submitted that it is its duty to ensure that the Complainant's signature on the dealing instructions is verified against the proof of identification provided to MPM. The Service Provider stated that in all cases involving the Complainant's dealing instructions, such verification was made by MPM.

MPM further submitted that it had controls in place to ensure that the dealing instructions received by it bore the signature of the Complainant, ensuring the investment was directed by her and the Adviser appointed by the Complainant, in line with the attitude to risk and was then reviewed against the Scheme investment guidelines.

MPM also noted that each dealing instruction was also accompanied by a SEB Statement of Understanding, each of which was also signed by the Complainant.

14. Reference was made to the allegation made by the Complainant that MPM accepted business from an 'unlicensed advisory firm'. MPM replied that Trafalgar was licensed as an insurance intermediary and consultant, as well as an investment intermediary and referred to the documentation attached to its reply in respect of such licences. MPM further noted that Trafalgar entered into an agency agreement with CWM. It was also submitted that MMP no longer accepted business from CWM as from September 2017 and that MPM is aware that CWM ceased trading on or around 29 September 2017.

MPM stated that any business introduced by CWM to MPM fell within the MFSA's Pension Rules for Service Providers as they relate to RSA. MPM further replied that it does not work on a commission basis and that it neither receives commissions, nor pays commissions to any third parties.

15. With respect to the Complainant's allegation that her signature was used to place her funds in high-risk structured notes and that the investments were made without her knowledge or consent, MPM referred to the reply in paragraph 8 and also to the annual member statements for 2014-2016 inclusive which were sent to the Complainant.

16. MPM noted that the Complainant alleges that a reimbursement has been made to the person referred to in the complaint. MPM replied that any information in the complaint, or documents attached thereto, which disclose information relating to persons who are not involved in this claim should be deleted from the record and documents expunged as the disclosures breach the rights, both in terms of confidentiality and data protection, of the persons with respect to whom they have been made.

    MPM submitted that it will not disclose any information pertaining to any other member but stated that it never paid any sums or made any financial contribution towards any legal settlement involving ex-CWM clients and CWM/Trafalgar. MPM further submitted that it has been working hard to help those members who have suffered as a result of CWM actions and in certain circumstances, in a very limited way, has offered assistance. MPM noted that this was in no way an admission of liability.

17. MPM replied that it has, at all times, fulfilled all its obligations with respect to the Complainant and observed all guidelines, including investment guidelines.

18. MPM submitted that, as already stated in its reply, it is not licensed to and does not provide investment advice and that furthermore, it did not provide investment advice to the Complainant. MPM noted that this is clear from the application form which specifically requests the details of the Complainant's professional adviser. MPM submitted that the Complainant also declared on the application form that the services provided by MPM did not extend to financial, legal, tax or investment advice as per declaration 8 on page 6 of the said form.

To further reinforce the point that MPM does not provide investment advice, it was submitted that an entire section of the terms and conditions of business, as attached to the application form, is dedicated solely to this point, as per page 7 of the application form.

19. MPM submitted that it is not responsible for the payment of any amount claimed by the Complainant and that it has, at all times, fulfilled all its obligations with respect to the Complainant.

20. MPM further submitted that it has not committed any fraud, nor has it acted negligently. MPM stated that it has not breached any of its obligations in any way and submitted that the losses sustained by the Complainant are attributable to the adviser appointed by the Complainant.

    MPM pointed out that the Complainant must show that it was MPM's actions or omissions which caused the loss being alleged. MPM replied that in the absence of the Complainant proving this causal link, MPM cannot be found responsible for the Complainant's claims.

Having heard the parties and seen all the documents and submissions made including the affidavits, the notes of submissions, the additional submissions made and respective attachments,

Preliminary Plea regarding the Competence of the Arbiter

The Service Provider raised the preliminary plea that the Arbiter has no competence to consider this case based on Article 21(1)(b) and Article 21(1)(c) of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta.

Plea relating to Article 21(1)(b) of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta

Article 21(1)(b) stipulates that:

'An Arbiter shall have the competence to hear complaints in terms of his functions under article 19(1) in relation to the conduct of a financial service provider which occurred on or after the first of May 2004:

Provided that a complaint about conduct which occurred before the entry into force of this Act shall be made by not later than two years from the date when this paragraph comes into force.'

Article 21(1)(b) stipulates that a complaint related to the 'conduct' of the financial service provider which occurred before the entry into force of this Act shall be made not later than two years from the date when this paragraph comes into force. This paragraph came into force on the 18 April 2016.

The law does not refer to the date when a transaction takes place but refers to the date when the alleged misconduct took place.

Consequently, the Arbiter has to determine whether the conduct complained of took place before the 18 April 2016 or after, in accordance with the facts and circumstances of the case.

In the case of a financial investment, the conduct of the service provider cannot be determined from the date when the transaction took place, and it is for this reason that the legislator departed from that date and laid the emphasis on the date when the conduct took place.

In this case, the conduct complained of involves the conduct of the Service Provider as trustee and retirement scheme administrator of the Scheme, which role MPM occupied since the Complainant became member of the Scheme and continued to occupy beyond the coming into force of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta.

Even if for argument's sake only, the Arbiter had to limit himself to the question of structured notes, (which is not the case because the Complainant raised other issues and the Service Provider had other obligations apart from the oversight of the portfolio as explained later in this decision), the Service Provider did not prove in this particular case that investments in structured notes no longer formed part of the portfolio after the coming into force of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta. The onus of proof for such evidence rests with the Service Provider.[2]

[2] Furthermore, the Arbiter notes that there is actually clear evidence from the SEB's Statements presented that structured notes still formed part of the portfolio after 18 April 2016.

The Arbiter also makes reference to the comments made further below relating to the maturity of the structured notes.

It is also noted that the complaint in question involves the conduct of the Service Provider during the period in which CWM was permitted by MPM to act as the adviser of the Complainant in relation to the Scheme. The Service Provider itself declares in its reply that it no longer accepted business from CWM as from September 2017. CWM was therefore still accepted by the Service Provider and acting as the investment adviser to the Complainant after the coming into force of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta. It has emerged that CWM was only replaced in September 2017 when MPM no longer accepted business from CWM. The responsibility of MPM in this regard is explained later on in this decision.

The Arbiter considers that the actions related to the Retirement Scheme complained about cannot accordingly be considered to have occurred before 18 April 2016 and, therefore, the plea as based on Article 21(1)(b) cannot be upheld.

Article 21(1)(c)

The Service Provider alternatively also raises the plea that Article 21(1)(c) of Chapter 555 should apply.

Article 21(1)(c) stipulates:

'An Arbiter shall also have the competence to hear complaints in terms of his functions under article 19(1) in relation to the conduct of a financial service provider occurring after the coming into force of this Act, if a complaint is registered in writing with the financial services provider not later than two years from the day on which the complainant first had knowledge of the matters complained of.'

In that case, the Complainant had two years to complain to the Service Provider 'from the day on which the complainant first had knowledge of the matters complained of'.

The fact that the Complainant was sent an Annual Member Statement, as stated by the Service Provider in its notes of submissions, could not be considered as enabling the Complainant to have knowledge about the matters complained of. This taking into consideration a number of factors including that the said Annual Member Statement was a highly generic report which only listed the underlying life assurance policy.[3] The Annual Member Statement issued to the Complainant by MPM included no details of the specific underlying investments held within the respective policy/account, which investments contributed to the losses and are being disputed by the Complainant. Hence, the Complainant was not in a position to know, from the Annual Member Statement what investment transactions were actually being carried out within her portfolio of investments.

It is also noted that the Annual Member Statement sent to the Complainant by the Service Provider had even a disclaimer highlighting that certain underlying investments may show a value reflecting an early encashment value or potentially a zero value prior to maturity and that such value did not reflect the true performance of the underlying assets.

The disclaimer read as follows:

'Investment values are provided to Momentum Pensions Malta Limited by Investment Platforms who are responsible for the accuracy of this information. Every effort has been made to ensure that this statement is correct but please accept this statement on this understanding.

Certain underlying assets with the Investment may show a value that reflects an early encashment value or potentially a zero value prior to maturity date. This will not reflect the true current performance of such underlying assets.'

Such a disclaimer did not reveal much to the Complainant about the actual state of the investments and the whole scenario could not have reasonably enabled the Complainant to have knowledge about the matters being complained of.

[3] In case 092/2018, the Annual Member Statement only listed an underlying account held with another third party.

Moreover, the Arbiter, makes reference to case number 137/2018, whereby it results that the Service Provider itself declared in July 2015, in reply to a member's concern regarding losses, that:

'… whilst we, as Trustees, will review and assess any losses, these can only be on the maturity of the note,[4] as any valuations can and will be distorted ahead of the expiry'.[5]

The Service Provider did not prove the date of maturity of the structured notes comprising the respective portfolio of the Complainant in question. The Arbiter also refers to the comments already made above with respect to structured notes forming part of the portfolio after the coming into force of Chapter 555.

The Arbiter has also discovered from case number 127/2018 that the Service Provider sent communication to all members of the Scheme with respect to the position with CWM.[6] In this regard, in September 2017, members were notified by MPM about the suspension of the terms of business that MPM had with CWM. Later, in October 2017, MPM also notified the members of the Scheme about the full withdrawal of such terms of business with CWM.

The Complainant in this case made a formal complaint with the Service Provider in November 2017 and, thus, within the two-year period established by Art. 21(1)(c) of Chapter 555.

Therefore, the Service Provider did not prove that the Complainant in the said cases raised the complaint 'later than two years from the day on which the complainant first had knowledge of the matters complained of'.

It is also noted that in this case not even two years had passed from the coming into force of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta and the date when the formal complaint was made by the complainants with the Service Provider.

For the above-stated reasons, this plea is also being rejected and the Arbiter declares that he has the competence to deal with the Complaint.

Clarification requested by the Service Provider regarding the Arbiter's competence regarding Article 21 of Chapter 555

The Service Provider requested clarification from the Complainant on her reply to the section of the complaint form enquiring whether the conduct complained of is currently the subject of a lawsuit before a court or tribunal.

Further to a decree issued by the Arbiter on 16 March 2020 on the said matter, the Complainant confirmed that her 'complaint has not been the subject of any tribunal or lawsuit (nor is being dealt with by any other legal body)' and that she is 'dependent on the judgement of the arbiter's office'.[7]

On the basis of this declaration, the Arbiter declares that the matter is now clarified, and its merits are exhausted.

The Merits of the Case

The Arbiter will decide the complaint by reference to what, in his opinion, is fair, equitable and reasonable in the particular circumstances and substantive merits of the case.[8]

The Arbiter is considering all pleas raised by the Service Provider relating to the merits of the case together to avoid repetition and to expedite the decision as he is obliged to do in terms of Chapter 555[9] which stipulates that he should deal with the complaints in 'an economical and expeditious manner'.

The Complainant

The Complainant is of British nationality and resided in Spain at the time of application as per the details contained in the Application for Membership of the Momentum Malta Retirement Trust ('the Application Form for Membership').

It was not proven during the case that the Complainant was a professional investor. Accordingly, the Complainant can be treated as a retail client.

[9] Art. 19(3)(d)

The Complainant was accepted by MPM as member of the Retirement Scheme in the year 2013.

The Service Provider

The Retirement Scheme was established by Momentum Pensions Malta Limited ('MPM'). MPM is licensed by the MFSA as a Retirement Scheme Administrator[10] and acts as the Retirement Scheme Administrator and Trustee of the Scheme.[11]

The Legal Framework

The Retirement Scheme and MPM are subject to specific financial services legislation and regulations issued in Malta, including conditions or pension rules issued by the MFSA in terms of the regulatory framework applicable for personal retirement schemes.

The Special Funds (Regulation) Act, 2002 ('SFA') was the first legislative framework which applied to the Scheme and the Service Provider. The SFA was repealed and replaced by the Retirement Pensions Act (Chapter 514 of the Laws of Malta) ('RPA'). The RPA was published in August 2011 and came into force on the 1 January 2015.[12]

There were transitional provisions in respect of those persons who, upon the coming into force of the RPA, were registered under the SFA. The Retirement Pensions (Transitional Provisions) Regulations, 2015 provided that retirement schemes or any person registered under the SFA had one year from the coming into force of the RPA to apply for authorisation under the RPA.

In terms of Regulation 3 of the said Transitional Provisions Regulations, such schemes or persons continued to be governed by the provisions of the SFA until such time that these were granted authorisation by MFSA under the RPA.

[12] Retirement Pensions Act, Cap.514/Circular letter issued by the MFSA - https://www.mfsa.com.mt/firms/regulation/pensions/pension-rules-applicable-as-from-1-january-2015/

As confirmed by the Service Provider, registration under the RPA was granted to the Retirement Scheme and the Service Provider on 1 January 2016 and hence the framework under the RPA became applicable as from such date.[13]

Despite not being much mentioned by MPM in its submissions, the Trusts and Trustees Act (Chapter 331 of the Laws of Malta), ('TTA') is also much relevant and applicable to the Service Provider, as per Article 1(2) and Article 43(6)(c) of the TTA, in light of MPM's role as the Retirement Scheme Administrator and Trustee of the Retirement Scheme.

Indeed, Article 1(2) of the TTA provides that:

'The provisions of this Act, except as otherwise provided in this Act, shall apply to all trustees, whether such trustees are authorised, or are not required to obtain authorisation in terms of article 43 and article 43A', with Article 43(6)(c) in turn providing that:

'A person licensed in terms of the Retirement Pensions Act to act as a Retirement Scheme Administrator acting as a trustee to retirement schemes shall not require further authorisation in terms of this Act provided that such trustee services are limited to retirement schemes …'.

Particularities of the Case

The Retirement Scheme in respect of which the Complaint is being made

The Momentum Malta Retirement Trust ('the Retirement Scheme' or 'the Scheme') is a trust domiciled in Malta. It was granted a registration by the MFSA[14] as a Retirement Scheme under the Special Funds (Regulation) Act in April 2011[15] and under the Retirement Pensions Act in January 2016.[16]

As detailed in the Scheme Particulars dated May 2018 presented by MPM during the proceedings of this case, the Scheme 'was established as a perpetual trust by trust deed under the terms of the Trusts and Trustees Act (Cap. 331) on the 23 March 2011'[17] and is 'an approved Personal Retirement Scheme under the Retirement Pensions Act 2011'.[18]

The Scheme Particulars specify that:

'The purpose of the Scheme is to provide retirement benefits in the form of a pension income or other benefits that are payable to persons who are resident both within and outside Malta. These benefits are payable after or upon retirement, permanent invalidity or death'.[19]

The case in question involves a member-directed personal retirement scheme where the Member was allowed to appoint an investment adviser to advise him on the choice of investments.

Prior to joining the Scheme, the Complainant was already invested into the 'Spanish Portfolio Bond', this being a policy issued by SEB Life International which policy commenced on the 11 November 2011 ('the SEB Policy').[20]

The said policy issued by SEB International was assigned to MPM as Trustee of Retirement Scheme following the Complainant's membership of the Retirement Scheme on the 29 October 2013. At the time of assignment of the policy to MPM, there were already certain investments underlying the policy which were made prior to membership and which MPM accepted to retain within the Scheme following the assignment of the policy to MPM. The SEB Policy and the underlying assets within the SEB Policy became assets of the Scheme following their assignment to MPM as trustee of the Scheme.

In the Table of Investments produced as part of the 'Investor Profile' in MPM's additional submissions as well as in the SEB's Statement as at 31 October 2013, it is indicated that there were already two substantial investments, one in a structured note issued by RBC and another into a structured note issued by Commerzbank at the point of the in specie transfer to MPM. After the acceptance of such investments and transfer of the policy to MPM as trustees of the Retirement Scheme, additional investments into structured notes were further made within the SEB Policy as summarised in the table presented by the Service Provider.

The Service Provider indicated the valuation of the Retirement Scheme amounting to GBP48,203 as at 29 January 2018 with a loss (which excluded fees) of GBP31,338 as at that date. The loss experienced by the Complainant is thus higher when taking into account the fees incurred and paid within the Scheme's structure.

The Service Provider does not explain whether the loss (excluding fees) it indicated in the 'current valuation' for the Complainant relates to realised or paper losses or both.

Investment Adviser

Continental Wealth Management ('CWM') was the investment adviser appointed by the Complainant.[21] The role of CWM was to advise the Complainant regarding the assets held within the Retirement Scheme.

It is noted that in the notices issued to members of the Scheme in September and October 2017, MPM described CWM as 'an authorised representative/ agent of Trafalgar International GMBH', where CWM's was Trafalgar's 'authorised representative in Spain and France'.

In its reply, MPM explained inter alia that CWM 'is a company registered in Spain. Before it ceased to trade, CWM acted as adviser and provided financial advice to investors. CWM was authorised to trade in Spain and in France by Trafalgar International GmbH'.[22]

In its submissions, it was further explained by MPM that 'CWM was appointed agent of Trafalgar International GmbH ('Trafalgar') and was operating under Trafalgar International GmbH licenses',[23] and that Trafalgar 'is authorised and regulated in Germany by the Deutsche Industrie Handelskammer (IHK)

Underlying Investments

The investments undertaken within the life assurance policy of the Complainant were summarised in the table of investment transactions included as part of the 'Investor Profile' information sheet provided by the Service Provider in respect of the Complainant.[25]

The extent of investments in structured notes, indicated as 'SN' in the column titled 'Asset Type' in the said table of investment transactions, was substantial as can be seen in the said table.

The said table indicates that the portfolio of investments for the Complainant involved substantial investments in structured notes with the portfolio comprising at times solely, or predominantly, of structured notes during the tenure of CWM as investment adviser.

The underlying policy, the Spanish Portfolio Bond issued by SEB Life International ('the SEB Policy') commenced on 21 November 2011 but was assigned to MPM as Trustee of the Retirement Scheme following the membership of the Complainant of the Scheme in October 2013. As outlined above, upon the assignment of the said policy to MPM, the policy included an investment into the RBC GBP Reverse Convertible Notes Linked and another structured note, the Commerzbank Global Indices 10% pa Coupon Generator.

The investments that were undertaken within the SEB Policy after this was assigned to MPM as trustee of the Scheme were also summarised in the table of investment transactions provided by the Service Provider.[26]

The investments into structured notes undertaken following the assignment of the SEB Policy to MPM as trustee of the Scheme comprised various investments into structured notes with some relatively minor investments into funds only commencing from late 2015.

Further Considerations

Responsibilities of the Service Provider

MPM is subject to the duties, functions and responsibilities applicable as a Retirement Scheme Administrator and Trustee of the Scheme.

Obligations under the SFA, RPA and directives rules issued thereunder

As indicated in the MFSA's Registration Certificate dated 28 April 2011 issued to MPM under the SFA, MPM was required, in the capacity of Retirement Scheme Administrator, 'to perform all duties as stipulated by articles 17 and 19 of the Special Funds (Regulation) Act, 2002 … in connection with the ordinary or day-to-day operations of a Retirement Scheme registered under the [SFA]'.

The obligations of MPM as a Retirement Scheme Administrator under the SFA are outlined in the Act itself and the various conditions stipulated in the original Registration Certificate which inter alia also referred to various Standard Operational Conditions (such as those set out in Sections B.2, B.5, B.7 of Part B and Part C) of the 'Directives for Occupational Retirement Schemes, Retirement Funds and Related Parties under the Special Funds (Regulation) Act, 2002' ('the Directives').

In terms of the said Registration Certificate issued under the SFA, MPM was also required to assume and carry out on behalf of the Scheme any functions and obligations applicable to the Scheme under the SFA, the regulations and the Directives issued thereunder.

Following the repeal of the SFA and issue of the Registration Certificate dated 1 January 2016 under the RPA, MPM was subject to the provisions relating to the services of a retirement scheme administrator in connection with the ordinary or day-to-day operations of a Retirement Scheme registered under the RPA. As a Retirement Scheme Administrator, MPM was subject to the conditions outlined in the 'Pension Rules for Service Providers issued under the Retirement Pensions Act' ('the Pension Rules for Service Providers') and the 'Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes issued under the Retirement Pensions Act' ('the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes').

In terms of the said Registration Certificate issued under the RPA, MPM was also required to assume and carry out on behalf of the Scheme any functions and obligations applicable to the Scheme under the RPA, the regulations and the Pension Rules issued thereunder.

One key duty of the Retirement Scheme Administrator emerging from the primary legislation itself is the duty to 'act in the best interests of the scheme' as outlined in Article 19(2) of the SFA and Article 13(1) of the RPA.

From the various general conduct of business rules/standard licence conditions applicable to MPM in its role as Retirement Scheme Administrator under the SFA/RPA regime respectively, it is pertinent to note the following general principles:[27]

a) Rule 2.6.2 of Part B.2.6 titled 'General Conduct of Business Rules applicable to the Scheme Administrator' of the Directives issued under the SFA, which applied to MPM as a Scheme Administrator under the SFA, provided that:

   'The Scheme Administrator shall act with due skill, care and diligence – in the best interests of the Beneficiaries …'.

   The same principle continued to apply under the rules issued under the RPA. Rule 4.1.4, Part B.4.1 titled 'Conduct of Business Rules' of the Pension Rules for Service Providers dated 1 January 2015 issued in terms of the RPA, and which applied to MPM as a Scheme Administrator under the RPA, provided that:

   'The Service Provider shall act with due skill, care and diligence …'.

b) Rule 2.7.1 of Part B.2.7 titled 'Conduct of Business Rules related to the Scheme's Assets', of the Directives issued under the SFA, which applied to MPM as a Scheme Administrator under the SFA, provided that:

   'The Scheme Administrator shall arrange for the Scheme assets to be invested in a prudent manner and in the best interest of Beneficiaries …'.

   The same principle continued to apply under the rules issued under the RPA. Standard Condition 3.1.2, of Part B.3 titled 'Conditions relating to the investments of the Scheme' of the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes dated 1 January 2015 issued in terms of the RPA, provided that:

'The Scheme's assets shall be invested in a prudent manner and in the best interest of Members and Beneficiaries and also in accordance with the investment rules laid out in its Scheme Particulars and otherwise in the Constitutional Document and Scheme Document.';

c) Rule 2.6.4 of Part B.2.6 titled 'General Conduct of Business Rules applicable to the Scheme Administrator' of the Directives issued under the SFA, which applied to MPM as a Scheme Administrator under the SFA provided that:

'The Scheme Administrator shall organise and control its affairs in a responsible manner and shall have adequate operational, administrative and financial procedures and controls in respect of its own business and the Scheme to ensure compliance with regulatory conditions and to enable it to be effectively prepared to manage, reduce and mitigate the risks to which it is exposed …'.

The same principle continued to apply under the rules issued under the RPA. Standard Condition 4.1.7, Part B.4.1 titled 'Conduct of Business Rules' of the Pension Rules for Service Providers dated 1 January 2015 issued in terms of the RPA, provided that:

'The Service Provider shall organise and control its affairs in a responsible manner and shall have adequate operational, administrative and financial procedures and controls in respect of its own business and the Scheme or Retirement Fund, as applicable, to ensure compliance with regulatory conditions and to enable it to be effectively prepared to manage, reduce and mitigate the risks to which it is exposed.'

Standard Condition 1.2.2, Part B.1.2 titled 'Operation of the Scheme, of the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes dated 1 January 2015 issued in terms of the RPA, also required that:

'The Scheme shall organise and control its affairs in a responsible manner and shall have adequate operational, administrative and financial procedures and controls to ensure compliance with all regulatory requirements*'*.

Trustee and Fiduciary obligations

As highlighted in the section titled 'The Legal Framework' above, the Trusts and Trustees Act ('TTA'), Chapter 331 of the Laws of Malta is also relevant for MPM considering its capacity as Trustee of the Scheme. This is an important aspect on which not much emphasis on, and reference to, has been made by the Service Provider in its submissions.

Article 21(1) of the TTA which deals with the 'Duties of trustees', stipulates a crucial aspect, that of the bonus paterfamilias, which applies to MPM.

The said article provides that:

'(1) Trustees shall in the execution of their duties and the exercise of their powers and discretions act with the prudence, diligence and attention of a bonus paterfamilias, act in utmost good faith and avoid any conflict of interest'.

It is also to be noted that Article 21(2)(a) of the TTA, further specifies that:

'Subject to the provisions of this Act, trustees shall carry out and administer the trust according to its terms; and, subject as aforesaid, the trustees shall ensure that the trust property is vested in them or is under their control and shall, so far as reasonable and subject to the terms of the trust, safeguard the trust property from loss or damage …'.

In its role as Trustee, MPM was accordingly duty bound to administer the Scheme and its assets to high standards of diligence and accountability. The trustee, having acquired the property of the Scheme in ownership under trust, had to deal with such property 'as a fiduciary acting exclusively in the interest of the beneficiaries, with honesty, diligence and impartiality'.[28]

As has been authoritatively stated:

[28] Pg. 174, 'An Introduction to Maltese Financial Services Law', Editor Dr Max Ganado, Allied Publications 2009.

'Trustees have many duties relating to the property vested in them. These can be summarized as follows: to act diligently, to act honestly and in good faith and with impartiality towards beneficiaries, to account to the beneficiaries and to provide them with information, to safeguard and keep control of the trust property and to apply the trust property in accordance with the terms of the trust'.[29]

The fiduciary and trustee obligations were also highlighted by MFSA in a recent publication where it was stated that:

'In carrying out his functions, a RSA [retirement scheme administrator] of a Personal Retirement Scheme has a fiduciary duty to protect the interests of members and beneficiaries*. It is to be noted that by virtue of Article 1124A of the Civil Code (Chapter 16 of the Laws of Malta), the RSA has certain fiduciary obligations to members or beneficiaries, which arise in virtue of law, contract, quasi-contract or trusts. In particular,* the RSA shall act honestly, carry out his obligations with utmost good faith, as well as exercise the diligence of a bonus pater familias in the performance of his obligations*'*.[30]

Although this Consultation Document was published in 2017, MFSA was basically outlining principles established both in the TTA and the Civil Code which had already been in force prior to 2017.

The above are considered to be crucial aspects which should have guided MPM in its actions and which shall accordingly be considered in this decision.

Other relevant aspects

One other important duty relevant to the case in question relates to the oversight and monitoring function of the Service Provider in respect of the Scheme including with respect to investments. As acknowledged by the Service Provider whilst MPM's duties did not involve the provision of investment advice, however, MPM did '*… retain the power to ultimately decide whether to proceed with an investment or otherwise'.[31]

[29] Op. cit. Pg. 178

[30] Page 9 – Consultation Document on Amendments to the Pension Rules issued under the Retirement Pensions Act [MFSA Ref: 09-2017], dated 6 December 2017.

[31] Para. 17, page 5 of the affidavit of Stewart Davies

Once an investment decision is taken by the member and his investment adviser and such decision is communicated to the retirement scheme administrator, MPM explained that as part of its duties

'The RSA will then ensure that the proposed trade on the dealing instruction, when considered in the context of the entire portfolio, ensures a suitable level of diversification, is in line with the member's attitude to risk and in line with the investment guidelines (applicable at the time the trade is placed) …'.[32]

MPM had accordingly the final say prior to the placement of a dealing instruction, in that, if MPM was satisfied that the level of diversification is suitable and in order, and the member's portfolio as a whole is in line with his attitude to risk and investment guidelines 'the dealing instruction will be placed with the insurance company and the trade will be executed. If the RSA is not so satisfied, then the trade will not be proceeded with'.[33]

This, in essence, reflected the rationale behind the statement reading:

'I accept that I or my designated professional adviser may suggest investment preferences to be considered, however, the Retirement Scheme administrator will retain full power and discretion for all decisions relating to the purchase, retention and sale of the investments within my Momentum Pensions Retirement Fund', which featured in the 'Declarations' section of the Application Form for Membership signed by the Complainant.

The MFSA regarded the oversight function of the Retirement Scheme Administrator as an important obligation where it emphasised, in recent years, the said role.

The MFSA explained that it:

'… is of the view that as specified in SLC 1.3.1 of Part B.1 (Pension Rules for Retirement Scheme Administrators) of the Pension Rules for Service Providers,

[32] Para. 31, Page 8 of the affidavit of Stewart Davies
[33] Para. 33, Page 9 of the affidavit of Stewart Davies. Para. 17 of Page 5 of the said affidavit also refers.

the RSA, in carrying out his functions, shall act in the best interests of the Scheme members and beneficiaries. The MFSA expects the RSA to be diligent and to take into account his fiduciary role towards the members and beneficiaries, at all times, irrespective of the form in which the Scheme is established. The RSA is expected to approve transactions and to ensure that these are in line with the investment restrictions and the risk profile of the member in relation to his individual member account within the Scheme'.[34]

The MFSA has also highlighted the need for the retirement scheme administrator to query and probe the actions of a regulated investment adviser stating that: 'the MFSA also remains of the view that the RSA is to be considered responsible to verify and monitor that investments in the individual member account are diversified, and the RSA is not to merely accept the proposed investments, but it should acquire information and assess such investments'. [35]

Despite that the above-quoted MFSA statements were made in 2018, an oversight function applied during the period relating to the case in question as explained earlier on. As far back as 2013, MPM's Investment Guidelines indeed also provided that:

'The Trustee need to ensure that the member's funds are invested in a prudent manner and in the best interests of the beneficiaries. The key principle is to ensure that there is a suitable level of diversification …',[36]

whilst para. 3.1 of the section titled 'Terms and Conditions' of the Application Form for Membership into the Scheme also provided inter alia that:

'*…in its role as Retirement Scheme Administrator [MPM] will exercise judgement as to the merits or suitability of any transaction …'.

Other Observations and Conclusions

Reference to Old Mutual International

In its reply, MPM pointed out that 'Momentum is aware that Old Mutual International Ireland Limited ('OMI'), the bond provider, has initiated legal action against one of the structured note providers (Leonteq Securities AG ('Leonteq')) for losses incurred by the ultimate holders of the bonds, such as the Complainant'.

It is pertinent to note that Old Mutual International is, however, not the bond provider for the Complainant. In the Complainant's case, the underlying bond is, actually, the Spanish Portfolio Bond, which is issued by a different provider, this being the SEB Life International.

Allegations relating to the signature on the dealing instructions

In this Case it was inter alia alleged that MPM accepted investments which were not authorised by the Complainant where it was, in essence, claimed that her signatures on the dealing investment instruction forms were identical implying that the signatures on such forms were forged, scanned or photocopied.

However, the Complainant did not provide enough evidence to the Arbiter to accept her allegation.

Nonetheless, the Arbiter would like to comment on the practice adopted by the Service Provider.

Communications relating to dealing instructions seem to have only occurred between MPM and the investment adviser without the Complainant being in copy or made promptly and adequately aware of the investment instructions given by the investment adviser and executed by MPM. It has indeed not emerged during the proceedings of the case that the Complainant was being adequately and promptly notified by MPM about material developments relating to her portfolio of investments within the Scheme as would reasonably be expected in respect of a consumer of financial services.

Not even the statements issued annually by MPM to the Complainant as a member of the Scheme provided details of her underlying investments. The Annual Member Statements were indeed generic in nature and only mentioned the underlying policy. Such statements did not include details of the investment transactions undertaken over the respective period nor details about the composition of the portfolio of investments as at the year end. In its capacity as Trustee and Scheme Administrator MPM had full details of the investment transactions undertaken and the composition of the Complainant's portfolio but yet did not report about such and neither did it ensure that the respective member had received such information.

The procedures used and methods of communications adopted by MPM, indeed enabled a possible situation such as that claimed. The serious allegations about the dealing instructions could have been easily avoided and/or at least addressed in a timely manner with simple measures and safeguards adopted by the trustee and scheme administrator.

In the context of member-directed schemes such measures could have involved, for example, accepting communications either from the Complainant or with the complainant being in copy in certain communications involving dealing instructions/confirmation of execution; and/or the member being adequately and promptly informed by MPM of the purchases and redemptions being made within the portfolio of investments.

This highlights the apparent lack of adequate controls and administrative procedures implemented by MPM which reasonably put into question MPM's adherence with the requirements to have adequate operational, administrative and controls in place in respect of its business and that of the scheme as it was required to do in terms of Rule 2.6.4 of Part B.2.6 of the Directives under the SFA and Standard Condition 4.1.7, Part B.4.1 of the Pension Rules for Service Providers issued under the RPA as well as Standard Condition 1.2.2, Part B.1.2 of the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes issued in terms of the RPA during the respective periods when such rules applied as outlined above.

The lack of adequate controls and administrative procedures is not just an aspect that features with respect to the handling of dealing instructions and verification of consent by members of such instructions, but also on other aspects involving the ongoing activities of the Scheme Administrator. This is particularly so with respect to the controls on the verification of compliance with the Investment Guidelines and also the reporting to the member amongst others as shall be considered below in this decision.

Key considerations relating to the principal alleged failures

The Arbiter will now consider the principal alleged failures. The principal alleged failures of the Service Provider that were made in this regard include that MPM failed to exercise due diligence, act in her interest and protect her pension. It was inter alia alleged in this regard that MPM allowed investments into high risk professional investor structured products with investments being made without her knowledge and consent.

It was further alleged that MPM accepted business from CWM when this was an unlicensed investment adviser.

General observations

On a general note, it is clear that MPM did not provide investment advice in relation to the underlying investments of the member-directed scheme. The role of the investment adviser was the duty of other parties, such as CWM. This would reflect on the extent of responsibility that the financial adviser and the RSA and Trustee had in this case as will be later seen in this decision.

However, despite that the Retirement Scheme Administrator was not the entity which provided the investment advice to invest in the contested financial instruments, MPM had nevertheless certain obligations to undertake in its role of Trustee and Scheme Administrator. The obligations of the trustee and retirement scheme administrator in relation to a retirement plan are important ones and could have a substantial bearing on the operations and activities of the scheme and affect directly, or indirectly, its performance.

Consideration thus needs to be made as to whether MPM failed in any relevant obligations and duties and, if so, to what extent any such failures are considered to have had a bearing or otherwise on the financial performance of the Scheme and the resulting losses for the Complainant.

A. The appointment of the Investment Adviser

It is noted that the Complainant chose the appointment of CWM to provide her with investment advice in relation to the selection of the underlying investments and composition of the portfolio within the member-directed Scheme.

However, from its part, MPM allowed and/or accepted CWM to provide investment advice to the Complainant within the Scheme's structure. MPM even had itself an introducer agreement with CWM.

There are a number of aspects which give rise to concerns on the diligence exercised by MPM when it came to the acceptance of, and dealings with, the investment adviser as further detailed below:

Inappropriate and inadequate material issues involving the Investment Adviser

i. Inaccurate, incorrect and unclear information relating to the adviser in MPM's Application Form for Membership

It is considered that MPM accepted and allowed inaccurate, incorrect and unclear information relating to the Adviser to prevail in its own Application Form for Membership. MPM should have been in a position to identify, raise and not accept the material deficiencies included in the Application Form.

If inaccurate, unclear and incorrect material information was made in the Application Form for Membership on such a key party it was only appropriate and in the best interests of the complainant, and reflective of the role as Trustee as a bonus paterfamilias, for MPM to raise and flag such matters to the Complainant and not accept such inadequacies in its form. MPM had ultimately the prerogative whether to accept the application, the selected investment adviser and also decide with whom to enter into terms of business.

The section titled 'Professional Adviser's Details' in the Application Form for Membership for the Complainant indicated 'Continental Wealth

Management'/'CWM' as the company's name of the professional adviser.

In the same section of the Application Form, CWM was indicated as having a registered address in Spain and that it was regulated with 'Cyprus' being identified as the regulator of the professional adviser.

The Arbiter considers the reference to Cyprus as regulator to be inadequate and misleading.

No evidence was submitted by MPM of CWM being regulated in Cyprus. The general reference to Cyprus could not have reasonably provided any comfort to MPM that CWM was regulated nor that there was some form of regulation and adequate controls and/or supervision on CWM.

ii. Lack of clarity convoluted information

The capacity in which CWM was acting, such as being an agent of another firm, did not emerge either from the Application Form for Membership or other documentation indicated to have been received or provided to the Complainant.

iii. No proper distinctions between CWM and/or Trafalgar

It is also unclear why the Annual Member Statement sent by MPM to the Complainant for the years ending December 2015 and 2016 indicated in the same statement 'Continental Wealth Management' as 'Professional Adviser', whilst at the same time indicated another party, typically 'Trafalgar International GmbH' as the 'Investment Adviser'.

No indication or explanation of the distinction and differences between the two terms of 'Professional Adviser' and 'Investment Adviser' were either provided or emerged nor can reasonably be deduced.

Besides the lack of clarity on the entity taking responsibility for the investment advice, the lack of clear distinction and links between the indicated parties in the statements, it has also not emerged that the Complainant was provided with clear and adequate information regarding the respective roles and responsibilities between the different mentioned entities throughout.

If CWM was acting as an appointed agent of another party, such capacity, as an agent of another firm, should have been clearly reflected in the application forms and other documentation relating to the Scheme. Relevant explanations and implications of such agency relationship should have also been duly indicated without any ambiguity.

Indeed, during the proceedings of this case MPM has not provided evidence of any agency agreement between CWM and Trafalgar or any other party.

No regulatory approval in respect of CWM

During the proceedings of this case no evidence has emerged about the regulatory status of CWM. As indicated earlier, MPM provided no details about the regulator of CWM, and in its submissions only referred to the alleged links between CWM and Trafalgar. MPM only provided a copy of the authorisations issued to Trafalgar International GmbH in Germany which just indicated that Trafalgar (and not CWM) held an authorisation as at 05.02.2016 as 'Investment intermediary' and 'Insurance intermediary and insurance consultant' from IHK Frankfurt am Main, the Chamber of Commerce and Industry in Frankfurt with the 'Insurance Mediation licence 34D Broker licence number: D-FE9C-BELBQ-24 and Financial Asset Mediator licence 34F: D-F-125-KXGB-53'.[37]

With respect to authorisations issued by IHK, the Arbiter makes reference to Case 068/2018 and Case 172/2018 against MPM[38] in which correspondence was produced involving replies issued by IHK in 2018 to queries made in respect of CWM. In this regard, it is noted that in an email from IHK dated 19 April 2018, IHK indicated inter alia that it was not aware of an official affiliation between CWM and Trafalgar and that Trafalgar held the financial investment intermediation licence (34f para. 1 GewO) from June 2013 until March 2016

[37] Copy of authorisations issued to Trafalgar were attached to the Reply of MPM submitted before the Arbiter for Financial Services and/or specifically referred to in para. 39 Section E, titled 'CWM and Trafalgar International GmbH' in the affidavit of Stewart Davies.
[38] Decided today

where the licence was 'not extendable' and 'even back then it did not cover the activities of another legal personality'.[39]

Similarly, in a letter dated 20 April 2018 issued by IHK it was inter alia noted by IHK that 'Trafalgar International GmbH is a German limited company headquartered in Frankfurt am Main. The company currently holds a licence under 34d para.1 German Trade Law (German: Gewerbeordnung, GewO) (insurance intermediation). The German licence as an insurance intermediary cannot be extended to another legal personality and it does not authorize the licence holder to regulate other insurance or financial investment intermediaries.'[40]

MPM's statement that CWM 'was operating under Trafalgar International GmbH licenses'[41] has not been backed up by any evidence during the proceedings of this case and has actually been contradicted by communications issued by IHK as indicated above. It is accordingly clear that no comfort can be taken from the authorisation/s held by Trafalgar.

Indeed, no evidence of any authorisation held by CWM in its own name or as an agent of a licensed institution, authorising it to provide advice on investment instruments and/or advice on investments underlying an insurance policy has, ultimately been produced or emerged during the proceedings of this case.

In the absence of such, the mere explanations provided by MPM regarding the regulatory status of CWM, including that CWM 'was authorised to trade in Spain and in France by Trafalgar International GmbH',[42] are rather vague, inappropriate and do not provide sufficient comfort of an adequate regulatory status for CWM to undertake the investment advisory activities provided to the Complainant.

This also taking into consideration that:

[39] Email from IHK dated 19 April 2018 – A fol. 166/167 of Case Number 068/2018, decided today.
[40] Letter from IHK dated 20 April 2018 – A fol. 12/13 of Case Number 172/2018, decided today
[41] Para. 39, Section E titled 'CWM and Trafalgar International GmbH' of the affidavit of Stewart Davies.
[42] Pg. 1, Section A, titled 'Introduction', of the Reply of MPM submitted before the Arbiter for Financial Services.

(a) Trafalgar is itself no regulatory authority but a licensed entity itself. Similarly, Inter-Alliance was no regulatory authority;

(b) the lack of clarity as to the regulatory status of the investment adviser included in the Application Form for Membership;

(c) legislation covering the provision of investment advisory services in relation to investment instruments, namely the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (2004/39/EC) already applied across the European Union since November 2007.

No evidence was provided that CWM, an entity indicated as being based in Spain, held any authorisation to provide investment advisory services, in its own name or in the capacity of an agent of an investment service provider under MiFID. Article 23(3) of the MiFID I Directive, which applied at the time, indeed provided specific requirements on the registration of tied agents.[43]

No evidence of CWM featuring in the tied agents register in any EU jurisdiction was either produced or emerged.

Neither was any evidence produced of any exemption from licence under MiFID or that CWM held an authorisation or exemption under any other applicable European legislation for the provision of the contested investment advice.

The Service Provider noted inter alia that 'CWM was appointed agent of Trafalgar International GmbH'.[44]

The nature of the agency agreement that CWM was claimed to have was not explained nor defined, and it was not indicated either in terms of which European financial services legislation such agency agreement was in force and permitted the provision of the disputed investment advice. Nor evidence of any agency agreement existing between CWM and any other party was produced during the proceedings of these cases as indicated above.

Other observations & synopsis

As explained above, albeit being selected by the Complainant, the investment adviser was however accepted, at MPM's sole discretion, to act as the Complainant's investment adviser within the Scheme's structure.

The responsibility of MPM in accepting and allowing CWM to act in the role of investment adviser takes even more significance when one takes into consideration the scenario in which CWM was accepted by MPM. As indicated above, MPM accepted CWM when it was being stated in its own application form that CWM was a regulated entity, but no evidence has transpired that this was so, as amply explained above.

MPM allowed and left uncontested incorrect, misleading and unclear key information to feature in its own Application Form for Membership of the Retirement Scheme with respect to the regulatory status of the investment adviser. In so doing, it abetted a fundamentally wrong impression and perception that the investment adviser being selected was regulated when, in reality, no evidence has emerged that CWM was indeed a regulated entity.

The Service Provider argued inter alia in its submissions that it was not required in terms of the rules to require the appointment of an adviser which was regulated during the years 2013-2015 under the SFA regime and until the implementation of Part B.9 titled 'Supplementary Conditions in the case of entirely Member Directed Schemes' of the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes issued in terms of the RPA updated in December 2018, where the latter clearly introduced the requirement for the investment adviser to be regulated.

However, the Arbiter believes that MPM as Trustee had in any case the obligation to act with the required diligence of a bonus paterfamilias throughout, and was duty bound to raise with the Complainant, and not itself accept, material aspects relating to the investment adviser, which it should have reasonably been in a position to know that where incorrect, misleading and inappropriate. Instead, it chose to allow and accept such material incorrect, misleading and inappropriate information relating to the adviser to even prevail in its own application form.

The appointment of an entity such as CWM as investment adviser meant, in practice, that there was a layer of safeguard in less for the Complainant as compared to a structure where an adequately regulated adviser is appointed. An adequately regulated financial adviser is subject to, for example, fitness and properness assessments, conduct of business requirements as well as ongoing supervision by a financial services regulatory authority.

MPM, being a regulated entity itself, should have been duly and fully cognisant of this. It is was only in the best interests of the Complainant for MPM to ensure that the Complainant had correct and adequate key information about the investment adviser.

Besides the issue of the regulatory status of the adviser, MPM also allowed and left uncontested important information, which was convoluted, misleading, unclear and lacking, with respect to the investment adviser, namely in relation to:

- CWM's alleged role as agent of another party, and the respective responsibilities of CWM and its alleged principal/s;
- the entity actually taking responsibility for the investment advice given to the Complainant given the references to different parties;
- the distinctions between CWM and Trafalgar or other principals.

It is also to be noted that apart from the above, MPM had itself a business relationship with CWM, having accepted it to act as its introducer of business. Such relationship gave rise to potential conflicts of interest, where an entity whose actions were subject to certain oversight by MPM on one hand was, on the other hand, channelling business to MPM.

Even in case where under the previous applicable regulatory framework, an unregulated adviser was allowed by the trustee and scheme administrator to provide investment advice to the member of a member-directed scheme, one would, at the very least, reasonably expect the retirement scheme administrator and trustee of such a scheme to exercise even more caution and prudence in its dealings with such a party.

This is even more so, when the activity in question, that is, one involving the recommendations on the choice and allocation of underlying investments, has such a material bearing on the financial performance of the Scheme and the objective to provide for retirement benefits.

In the case in question, it would have accordingly been only reasonable to expect MPM, as part of its essential and basic obligations and duties as a retirement scheme administrator and trustee of the Scheme, to have an even higher level of disposition in the probing and querying of the actions of an unregulated investment adviser in order to also ensure that the interests of the member of the scheme are duly safeguarded and risks mitigated in such circumstances.

The Arbiter does not have comfort that such level of diligence and prudence has been actually exercised by MPM for the reasons already stated in this section of the decision.

B. The permitted portfolio composition

Investment into Structured Notes

Preliminary observations

The sale of, and investment into, structured notes is an area which has attracted various debates internationally including reviews by regulatory authorities over the years. Such debates and reviews have been occurring even way back since the time when the Retirement Scheme was granted registration in 2011.

The Arbiter considers that caution was reasonably expected to be exercised with respect to investments in, and extent of exposure to, such products since the time of the Scheme's registration. Even more so when taking into consideration the nature of the Retirement Scheme and its specific objective.

Nevertheless, the exposure to structured notes allowed within the Complainant's portfolio was extensive, with the insurance policy underlying the Scheme being at times fully or predominantly invested into such products.

A typical definition of a structured note provides that:

'A structured note is a debt security issued by financial institutions; its return is based on equity indexes, a single equity, a basket of equities, interest rates, commodities or foreign currencies. The return on a structured note is linked to the performance of an underlying asset, group of assets or index'.[45]

A structured note is further described as:

'a debt obligation - basically like an IOU from the issuing investment bank - with an embedded derivative component; in other words, it invests in assets via derivative instruments'.[46]

The Arbiter notes that the fact sheets of structured notes that featured in her portfolio, and that were sourced by the Office of the Arbiter for Financial Services ('OAFS'), highlighted a number of risks in respect of the capital invested into these products.

Apart from inter alia the credit risk of the issuer and the liquidity risk, the fact sheets of the said structured products also highlighted risk warnings about the notes not being capital protected, warning that the investor could possibly receive less than the original amount invested or, potentially, even losing all of the investment.

A particular feature emerging of the type of structured notes invested into, involved the application of capital buffers and barriers. In this regard, the fact sheets of such products described and included warnings that the invested capital was at risk in case of a particular event occurring. Such event typically comprised a fall, observed on a specific date of more than a percentage specified in the respective fact sheet, in the value of any underlying asset to which the structured note was linked.

[45] https://www.investopedia.com/terms/s/structurednote.asp
[46] https://www.investopedia.com/articles/bonds/10/structured-notes.asp

The fall in value would typically be observed on maturity/final valuation of the note. The specified percentage in the fall in value mentioned in the relevant fact sheets typically ranged between 40%, 50% or 60% of the initial value. The underlying asset to which the structured notes were linked typically comprised listed companies or indices.

The said fact sheets further included a warning, on the lines of, 'If any stock has fallen by more than 50% (a Barrier breach) then investors receive the performance of the Worst Performing Stock at Maturity'.[47]

Such features and warnings featured, in essence, in the fact sheets of similar structured notes.

It is accordingly clear that there were certain specific risks in various structured products invested into and there were material consequences if just one asset, out of a basket of assets to which the note was linked, fell foul of the indicated barrier. The implication of such a feature should have not been overlooked nor discounted. Given the particular features of the structured notes invested into, neither should have comfort been derived regarding the adequacy of such products just from the fact that the structured notes were linked to a basket of fully quoted shares (or recognised indices).

The Arbiter would also like to make reference to a particular communication presented in another separate case made against MPM which is relevant to the case in question. In this regard, it is particularly revealing to note the statements made by Trafalgar itself, in its email communication dated 17 September 2017 to CWM wherein MPM was in copy, and which communication was presented in Case Number 185/2018 against MPM.[48]

In the said case, MPM did not contest that such communication was untrue or did not exist, but only challenged the way in which the said email was obtained by the complainant.

[47] Example – Fact Sheet of the structured note issued by RBC with ISIN no. XS1000868247- https://www.portman-associates.com/wp-content/uploads/2013/11/RBC-Festive-Fixed-Income-FACTSHEET.pdf

[48] Decided today

The email sent by Trafalgar's official inter alia stated the following:

'Structured Notes – It is my opinion we need to get as far away from these vehicles as possible. They have no place in an uneducated investor's portfolio and when they breach their barriers untold amounts of damage is done'.[49]

Such a statement indeed summarily highlighted the pertinent issues with respect to investments in structured notes which are relevant to the case in question.

Excessive exposure to structured products and to single issuers

As indicated above, the portfolio of investments in respect of the Complainant at times comprised solely and/or predominantly of structured products. Such excessive exposure to structured products occurred over a long period of time. This clearly emerges from the Table of Investments forming part of the 'Investor Profile' provided by the Service Provider for the Complainant.

In addition, the said table indicates investments resulting in high exposures to the same single issuer/s, either through a singular purchase and/or through cumulative purchases in products issued by the same issuer.

Even in case where the issuer of the structured product was a large institution, the Arbiter does not, however, consider this to justify or make the high exposure to single issuers acceptable even more in the Scheme's context. The maximum limits relating to exposures to single issuers outlined in the MFSA rules and MPM's own Investment Guidelines did not make any distinctions according to the standing of the issuer.

Hence, the maximum exposure limits to single counterparties should have been applied and ensured that they are adhered to across the board. The credit risk of the respective issuer was indeed still one of the risks highlighted in various fact sheets, sourced by the OAFS of structured products invested into.

[49] Emphasis added by the Arbiter

In Specie Transfer and subsequent investments

The Arbiter has considered the overall portfolio allowed by MPM within the Scheme's structure, that is, the in specie investments accepted by MPM upon the Complainant becoming a member of the Scheme and also the subsequent investments made following the assignment of the SEB Policy to MPM.

It is noted that upon the assignment of the SEB Policy to MPM as trustee of the Retirement Scheme, the SEB Policy already had a substantial exposure to two structured note investments, one issued by RBC and another by Commerzbank.

Despite such substantial investments in just two structured notes, the portfolio still continued to be constructed predominantly with structured products.

As to the investments undertaken prior to membership and transferred in specie to the Scheme, it is noted that MPM, as Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator, accepted the said investments within the Scheme's structure and also allowed them to be retained within the Retirement Scheme.

MPM was ultimately in a position not to accept such investments at the time when it considered whether to accept or not the Complainant as member of the Scheme. Accordingly, it is considered that MPM cannot completely wash its hands from such investments with the excuse that these were undertaken prior to membership.

Furthermore, it has not been indicated, nor any evidence has emerged that MPM, as Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator of the Scheme, expressed, at any time, any reservations or warnings to the Complainant about the said substantial investments existing prior to the transfer. It has neither been indicated that the sale of such products prior to their maturity was not possible and/or that the early redemption of such investment was not in the Complainant's best interests.

During the proceedings of this case it was neither indicated nor proven that the Complainant risked sustaining a greater loss on such investments had such product been redeemed prior to maturity.

In the particular circumstances of this case, it is accordingly considered that whilst MPM cannot be held responsible for the loss in value of investments prior to the transfer and assignment of the policy to the Service Provider, MPM should however be responsible for the position starting from the date since it took over as Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator. Accordingly, in the particular circumstances it is considered that responsibility should be be attributed to MPM from the date when the investment was accepted by it within the Scheme's structure and until the said investments remained under MPM's control in its capacity as Trustee and Scheme Administrator.

Portfolio not reflective of the MFSA rules

The high exposure to structured products as well as high exposure to single issuers, which was allowed to occur by the Service Provider in the Complainant's portfolio, jars with the regulatory requirements that applied to the Retirement Scheme at the time, particularly Standard Operational Condition ('SOC') 2.7.1 and 2.7.2 of the 'Directives for Occupational Retirement Schemes, Retirement Funds and Related Parties under the Special Funds (Regulation) Act, 2002', ('the Directives') which applied from the Scheme's inception in 2011 until the registration of the Scheme under the RPA on 1 January 2016. The applicability and relevance of these conditions to the case in question was highlighted by MPM itself.[50]

SOC 2.7.1 of Part B.2.7 of the Directives required inter alia that the assets were to 'be invested in a prudent manner and in the best interest of beneficiaries …'.

SOC 2.7.2 in turn required the Scheme to ensure inter alia that, the assets of a scheme are 'invested in order to ensure the security, quality, liquidity and profitability of the portfolio as a whole,'[51] and that such assets are 'properly diversified in such a way as to avoid accumulations of risk in the portfolio as a whole'.[52]

[50] Para. 21 & 23 of the Note of Submissions filed by MPM in 2019.
[51] SOC 2.7.2 (a)
[52] SOC 2.7.2 (b)

SOC 2.7.2 of the Directives also provided other benchmarks including for the portfolio to be 'predominantly invested in regulated markets';[53] to be 'properly diversified in such a way as to avoid excessive exposure to any particular asset, issuer or group of undertakings',[54] where the exposure to single issuer was: in the case of investments in securities issued by the same body limited to no more than 10% of assets; in the case of deposits with any one licensed credit institution limited to 10%, which limit could be increased to 30% of the assets in case of EU/EEA regulated banks; and where in case of investments in properly diversified collective investment schemes, which themselves had to be predominantly invested in regulated markets, limited to 20% of the scheme's assets for any one collective investment scheme.[55]

Despite the standards of SOC 2.7.2, MPM allowed the portfolio of the Complainant to, at times, comprise solely and/or predominantly of structured products. Individual exposures to single issuers were at times higher than 20% and in certain instances even higher than 30%, the latter being the maximum limit applied in the Rules to relatively safer investments such as deposits as outlined above. The structured products invested into were also not indicated, during the proceedings of this case, as themselves being traded in or dealt on a regulated market. The portfolio also included material positions into high-risk investments. The high risk is reflected in the high rate of returns of 8%, 9% and 10% p.a. which featured in the name of various structured products invested into.

Portfolio not reflective of MPM's own Investment Guidelines

In its submissions, MPM produced a copy of the Investment Guidelines marked 'January 2013' and 'Mid-2014', which guidelines featured in the Application Form for Membership, and also Investment Guidelines marked '2015', '2016', 'Mid-2017', 'Dec-2017' and '2018' where it is understood the latter respectively also formed part of the Scheme's documentation such as the Scheme Particulars issued by MPM.

[53] SOC 2.7.2 (c)
[54] SOC 2.7.2 (e)
[55] SOC 2.7.2 (h)(iii) & (v)

Despite that the Service Provider claimed that the investments made were in line with the Investment Guidelines, MPM has, however, not adequately proven such a claim.

As indicated, the investment portfolio in the case reviewed in this decision was at times either solely and/or predominantly invested in structured notes for a long period of time. It is unclear how such a portfolio composition truly satisfied certain conditions specified in MPM's own Investment Guidelines such as:

(i) The requirement that the member's assets had to be 'predominantly invested in regulated markets'.

This was a condition which prevailed in all of the presented MPM's Investment Guidelines since January 2013 till that of 2018.[56]

The said requirement of being 'predominantly invested in regulated markets' meant, and should have been construed to mean, that investments had to be predominantly invested in listed instruments, that is financial instruments that were admitted to trading.

With reference to industry practice, the terminology of 'regulated markets' is referring to a regulated exchange venue (such as a stock exchange or other regulated exchange). The term 'regulated markets' is in fact commonly referred to, defined and applied in various EU Directives relating to financial services, including diversification rules applicable on other regulated financial products.[57] Hence, the interpretation of 'regulated markets' has to be seen in such context.

The reference to 'predominantly invested in regulated markets' cannot be interpreted as referring to the status of the issuers of the products and it is typically the product itself which has to be traded on the regulated market and not the issuer of the product.

[56] Investment Guidelines attached to the affidavit of Stewart Davies.

[57] Such as UCITS schemes - the Undertakings for Collective Investments in Transferable Securities (UCITS) Directive (Directive 2009/65/EC as updated). The Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID) (Directive 2004/39/EC as repealed by Directive 2014/65/EU) also includes a definition as to what constitutes a 'regulated market'.

Moreover, a look through approach, could not either be sensibly applied to the structured notes for the purposes of such condition taking into consideration the nature and particular features of the structured notes invested into.

No evidence was submitted that predominantly the portfolio, which at times comprised solely or predominantly of structured notes, constituted listed structured notes. The fact sheets sourced of structured notes forming part of the portfolio, actually indicated that the products in question were not listed on an exchange.

On its part the Service Provider did not prove that the portfolio of the Complainant was 'predominantly invested in regulated markets' on an ongoing basis.

Furthermore, when investment in unlisted securities was itself limited to 10% of the Scheme assets, as stipulated throughout MPM's own Investment Guidelines for 2013 to 2018, it is unclear how the Trustee and Scheme Administrator chose to allow much higher exposures (as will be indicated further below) to structured notes, a debt security, which were themselves unlisted.

(ii) The requirement relating to the liquidity of the portfolio.

The Investment Guidelines of MPM marked January 2013 required no more than a 'maximum of 40% of the fund[58] in assets with liquidity of greater than 6 months'.

This requirement remained, in essence, also reflected in the Investment Guidelines marked 'Mid-2014' which read 'Has a maximum of 40% of the fund in assets with expected liquidity of greater than 6 months' as well as in the subsequent Investment Guidelines marked 2015 till 2018 which were updated by MPM and tightened further to read a 'maximum of 40% of the fund in assets with expected liquidity of greater than 3 months but not greater than 6 months'.

[58] The reference to 'fund' is construed to refer to the member's portfolio.

It is evident that the scope of such requirement was to ensure the liquidity of the portfolio as a whole by having the portfolio predominantly (that is, at least 60%) exposed to liquid assets which could be easily redeemed within a short period of time, that is 3-6 months (as reflected in the respective conditions) whilst limiting exposure to those assets which take longer to liquidate to no more than 40% of the portfolio.

With reference to the Complainant's portfolio, it is noted that the structured notes invested into typically had a maturity or investment term of 1-2 years and at times even higher up to 5 years as evidenced in the product fact sheets. The bulk of the assets within the policy was, at times, invested into very few structured notes. It is unclear how the 40% maximum limit referred to above could have been satisfied in such circumstances where the portfolio was predominantly invested into structured notes which themselves had long investment terms.

It is further noted that the fact sheets of the said unlisted structured products included reference to the possibility of a secondary market existing for such structured notes. In this regard, a buyer had to be found in the secondary market in case one wanted to redeem a holding into such structured note prior to its maturity.

The secondary market could, however, not have provided an adequate level of comfort with respect to liquidity.

There were indeed various risks highlighted in relation to the secondary market as amply reflected in the risk warnings emerging in the said fact sheets.

The said risk warnings highlighted the risks related to the availability of such market (as the secondary market had to be in the first place offered by the issuer), as well as the limitations of the said market. They also highlighted the lower price that could be sought on this market.

In this regard, there was the risk that the price of the structured note on the secondary market could be well below the initial capital invested.

For example, the note issued by RBC included the risk disclaimer that:

'Any secondary market provided by Royal Bank of Canada is subject to change and may be stopped without notice and investors may therefore be unable to sell or redeem the Notes until their maturity. If the Notes are redeemed early, they may be redeemed at a level less than the amount originally invested'.

Similar warnings feature in other fact sheets.

MPM should have been well aware about the risks associated with the secondary market. It has indeed itself seen the material lower value that could be sought on such market in respect of the structured notes invested into. The lower values of the structured notes on the secondary market was indeed affecting the value of the Scheme as can be deduced from the respective Annual Member Statements that MPM itself produced.

Hence, no sufficient comfort about liquidity could have possibly been derived with respect to the secondary market in case of unlisted structured notes.

The Arbiter is not accordingly convinced that the conditions relating to liquidity were being adequately adhered to, nor that the required prudence was being exercised with respect to the liquidity of the portfolio, when considering the above mentioned aspects and when keeping into context that the portfolio of investments that was allowed to develop within the Retirement Scheme was at times solely and/or predominantly invested in the said structured notes.

Even if one had to look at the composition of the portfolio purely from other aspects, there is still undisputable evidence of non-compliance with other requirements detailed in MPM's own Investment Guidelines. This is particularly so with respect to the requirements applicable regarding the proper diversification, avoidance of excessive exposure and permitted maximum exposure to single issuers.

In addition to the material exposures to the two structured notes respectively issued by RBC and Commerzbank that were accepted as an in specie transfer, Table A below shows just another example of excessive single exposures allowed within the portfolio at the time of purchase. The excessive exposure to single counterparties clearly emerges from the 'Table of Investments' forming part of the 'Investor Profile' produced by MPM as part of its submissions.

Table A – Example of Excessive Exposure to a Single Issuer of Structured Notes ('SNs')

Exposure to single issuer in % terms of the policy value at time of purchase	Issuer	Description
Over 29.55%	Commerzbank	1 SNs issued by Commerzbank purchased in December 2013 comprised 29.55% of the policy value at the time of purchase. Such purchase was in addition to another material investment into a structured not issued by Commerzbank existing at the point of transfer of the SEB Policy to MPM.

Irrespective of whether or not the particular investment indicated had actually yielded a profit, the fact that such high exposure to a single counterparty was allowed in the first place indicates, in itself, the lack of prudence and excessive exposure and risks to single counterparties that were allowed to be taken on a general level.

The Arbiter notes that the Service Provider has along the years revised various times the investment restrictions specified in its own 'Investment Guidelines' with respect to structured products, both in regard to maximum exposures to structured products and maximum exposure to single issuers of such products. The exposure to structured notes and their issuers was indeed progressively and substantially reduced over the years in the said Investment Guidelines.

The specified maximum limit of 66% of the portfolio value in structured notes having underlying guarantees which featured in the 'Investment Guidelines' marked 2015[59] was reduced to 40% of the portfolio's value in the 'Investment Guidelines' marked December 2017[60] and, subsequently, reduced further to 25% in the 'Investment Guidelines' for 2018.[61]

Similarly, the maximum exposure to single issuers for 'products with underlying guarantees', that is, structured products as referred to by MPM itself in the 'Investment Guidelines' marked Mid-2014 and 2015, specifically limited maximum exposure to the same issuer default risk to no more than (33.33%), one third of the portfolio. The maximum limit to such products was subsequently reduced to 25%, one quarter of the portfolio, in the 'Investment Guidelines' marked 2016[62] and mid-2017,[63] reduced further to 20% in the 'Investment Guidelines' marked December 2017 and, subsequently, to 12.5% in the 'Investment Guidelines' for 2018. Even before the Investment Guidelines of Mid-2014, MPM's Investment Guidelines of January 2013 still limited exposure to individual investments (aside from collective investment schemes) to 20%.

In the case reviewed, there is at least one instance where the extent of exposure to single issuers was even higher than one third of the policy value as indicated in the above Table. There is clearly no apparent reason, from a prudence point of view, justifying such high exposures to single issuers.

The Arbiter considers that the high exposure to structured products and single issuers in the Complainant's portfolio jarred and did not reflect to varying degrees with one or more of MPM's own investment guidelines applicable at the time, most particularly with respect to the following guidelines:[64]

[59] MPM's Investment Guidelines '2015' as attached to the affidavit of Stewart Davies
[60] MPM's Investment Guidelines 'Dec-2017' as attached to the affidavit of Stewart Davies

Besides the mentioned excessive exposure to single issuers, it is also noted that additional investments into structured notes were observed[65] to have been allowed to occur within the portfolio in excess of the limits allowed on the maximum exposure to such products.

MPM's Investment Guidelines of 2015, 2016 and mid-2017 specifically mentioned a maximum limit of 66% of the portfolio value to structured notes. In the case reviewed, the Service Provider still continued to allow further investments into structured products at one or more instances when the said limits should have applied. The additional investments also occurred despite the portfolio being already exposed to structured notes more than the said percentage at the time when the additional purchase was being made.

For the reasons amply explained, the Arbiter has no comfort that in its role as a Scheme Administrator and Trustee, MPM has truly ensured that the Scheme's investments were generally, and at all times, managed in accordance with relevant legislation and regulatory requirements, as well as in accordance with the rules and terms and conditions of the Trust.

Portfolio invested into Structured Products Targeted for Professional Investors

Besides the issues mentioned above, there is also the aspect relating to the nature of the structured products and whether the products allowed within the Complainant's portfolio comprised structured notes aimed solely for professional investors.

The Service Provider has not claimed that the Complainant was a professional investor. No details have either emerged indicating the Complainant not being a retail investor.

The OAFS traced a number of Fact Sheets in respect of several structured products which featured in the portfolio of the Complainant. The fact sheets in question were sourced by the OAFS through research undertaken over the internet with the specific ISIN number of the respective structured note featuring in the portfolio. The ISIN number for each structured product was obtained from the 'Table of Investments' forming part of the 'Investor Profile' provided by the Service Provider. Multiple fact sheets of different structured products featuring in the Complainant's portfolio have been sourced accordingly.[66]

[65] 'Table of Investments' in the 'Investor Profile' provided by MPM refers.

The fact sheets traced by the OAFS in the case in question, constituted 5 different structured products issued by either RBC or Commerzbank.[67]

The fact sheets sourced from such parties specify that the products were all targeted for professional investors only.

With respect to the structured products issued by RBC, for example, the fact sheets clearly indicate that such investments were 'For Professional Investors Only' and 'not suitable for Retail distribution' with the 'Target Audience' for these products being specified as 'Professional Investors Only' as outlined in the 'Key Features' section of the respective fact sheet.

It is clear that such fact sheets were issued purposely for those investors who were eligible to invest in the product. It is also clear that such products were not aimed for retail investors but only for professional investors.

The Service Provider has, in the case in question, not produced any fact sheets of the structured notes that were invested into. Neither were fact sheets targeted for retail investors, in respect of the structured notes included in the Complainant's portfolio were presented by MPM.

Whilst the OAFS could not verify that all the investments within the Complainant's portfolio were all targeted for professional investors, the various fact sheets traced by the OAFS in the portfolio is, in itself, indicative of a trend taken by the Service Provider in allowing products aimed solely for professional investors to be included in the portfolio of a retail client.

It is, therefore, considered that there is sufficient evidence resulting from multiple instances which show that the portfolio generally included investments not appropriate and suitable for a retail client.

[66] From the site https://www.portman-associates.com/.

It is clear that there was a lack of consideration by the Service Provider with respect to the suitability and target investor of the structured notes.

Such lack of consideration is not reflective of the principle of acting with 'due skill, care and diligence' and 'in the best interests of' the members as the relevant laws and rules mentioned above obliged the Service Provider to do.

Other observations & synopsis

The Service Provider did not help its case by not providing detailed information on the underlying investments as already stated in this decision. Although the Service Provider filed a Table of Investments, it did not provide adequate information to explain the portfolio composition and justify its claim that the portfolio was diversified. It did not provide fact sheets in respect of the investments comprising the portfolio of the Complainant and it did not demonstrate the features and the risks attached to the investments.

The Service Provider's mere indication that it made in its submissions, that the portfolio was diversified through a range of structured notes with varying terms and issuers cannot reasonably provide, in itself, sufficient and adequate comfort on the level of diversification/adequacy of such investments. Various other aspects cannot be ignored by the Service Provider.

Such aspects include, but are not limited to:

- the nature of the structured products being invested into and the effects any events or barriers that may form part of the key features of such products would have on the investment if, and when, such events occur as already detailed above;
- the potential rate of returns as indicative of the level of risk being taken;
- the level of risks ultimately exposed to in the respective product and in the overall portfolio composition; and
- not the least, the issuer/counterparty risk being taken.

The extent of losses experienced on the capital of the Complainant's portfolio, as indicated by MPM itself,[68] is in itself indicative of the failure in adherence with the applicable conditions on diversification and avoidance of excessive exposures. Otherwise, material losses, which are reasonably not expected to occur in a pension product whose scope is to provide for retirement benefits, would have not occurred.

Apart from the fact that no sensible rationale has emerged for limiting the composition of the pension portfolio solely and/or predominantly to structured products, no adequate and sufficient comfort has either emerged that such composition reflected the prudence expected in the structuring and composition of a pension portfolio. Neither that the allocations were in the best interests of the Complainant despite her selected risk profile.

In the circumstance, where the portfolio of the Complainant was at times solely and/or predominantly invested in structured products with a high level of exposure to single issuer/s, and for the reasons amply explained above, the Arbiter does not consider that there was proper diversification nor that the portfolio was at all times 'invested in order to ensure the security quality, liquidity and profitability of the portfolio as a whole',[69] and 'properly diversified in such a way as to avoid accumulations of risk in the portfolio as a whole'.[70]

Apart from the fact that the Arbiter does not have comfort that the portfolio was reflective of the conditions and investment limits outlined in the MFSA's Rules and MPM's own Investment Guidelines, it is also being pointed out that over and above the duty to observe specific maximum limits relating to diversification as may have been specified by rules, directives or guidelines applicable at the time, the behaviour and judgement of the Retirement Scheme Administrator and Trustee of the Scheme is expected to, and should have gone beyond compliance with maximum percentages and was to, in practice, reflect the spirit and principles behind the regulatory framework and in practice promote the scope for which the Scheme was established.

[68] 'Investor Profile' attached with the Additional Submissions made by MPM in 2019.
[69] SOC 2.7.2(a) of Part B.2.7 of the Directives.
[70] SOC 2.7.2(b) of Part B.2.7 of the Directives.

The excessive exposure to structured products and their issuers nevertheless clearly departed from such principles and cannot ultimately be reasonably considered to satisfy and reflect in any way a suitable level of diversification nor a prudent approach.

This is even more so when considering the crucial aim of a retirement scheme being that to provide for retirement benefits – an aspect which forms the whole basis for the pension legislation and regulatory framework to which the Retirement Scheme and MPM were subject to. The provision of retirement benefits was indeed the Scheme's sole purpose as reflected in the Scheme Particulars.

C. The Provision of information

With respect to reporting to the member of the Scheme, MPM mentioned and referred only to the Annual Member Statement in its submissions. The said annual statements issued by the Service Provider to the Complainant are, however, highly generic reports which only listed the underlying life assurance policy and included no details of the underlying investments that is the structured notes comprising the portfolio of investments.

Hence, the extent and type of information sent to the Complainant by MPM as a member of the Scheme in respect of her underlying investments is considered to have been lacking and insufficient.

SOC 9.3(e) of Part B.9 of the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes of 1 January 2015 already provided that, in respect of member directed schemes,

'a record of all transactions (purchases and sales) occurring in the member's account during the relevant reporting period should be provided by the Retirement Scheme Administrator to the Member at least once a year and upon request …'. [71]

It is noted that the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes under the RPA became applicable to MPM on 1 January 2016 and that, as per the MFSA's

[71] The said condition was further revised and updated as per condition 9.5(e) of Part B.9 of the Pension Rules for Personal Retirement Schemes indicated as 'Issued: 7 January 2015/Last updated: 28 December 2018' communications presented by MPM,[72] Part B.9 of the said rules did not become effective until the revised rules issued in 2018.

Nevertheless, it is considered that even where such condition could have not strictly applied to the Service Provider from a regulatory point of view, the Service Provider as a Trustee, obliged by the TTA to act as a bonus paterfamilias and in the best interests of the members of the Scheme, should have felt it its duty to provide members with detailed statements and information on the underlying investments.

Moreover, prior to being subject to the regulatory regime under the RPA, the Service Provider was indeed already subject to regulatory requirements relating to the provision of adequate information to members such as the following provisions under the SFA framework:

- Standard Operating Conditions 2.6.2 and 2.6.3 of Section B.2 of the Directives for Occupational Retirement Schemes, Retirement Funds and Related Parties under the Special Funds (Regulation) Act, 2002[73] respectively already provided that:

  '2.6.2 The Scheme Administrator shall act with due skill, care and diligence in the best interests of the Beneficiaries. Such action shall include:

  b) ensuring that contributors and prospective contributors are provided with adequate information on the Scheme to enable them to take an informed decision…';

  '2.6.3 The Scheme Administrator shall ensure the adequate disclosure of relevant material information to prospective and actual contributors in a way which is fair, clear and nor misleading. This shall include:

[72] MFSA's letter dated 11 December 2017, attached to the Note of Submissions filed by MPM in 2019.
[73] Condition 2.2 of the Certificate of Registration issued by the MFSA to MPM dated 28 April 2011 included reference to Section B.2 of the said Directives.

b) reporting fully, accurately and promptly to contributors the details of transactions entered into by the Scheme …'.

There is no apparent and justified reason why the Service Provider did not report itself on key information such as the composition of the underlying investment portfolio, which it had in its hands as the trustee of the underlying life assurance policy held in respect of the Complainant.

The general principles of acting in the best interests of members and those relating to the duties of trustee as already outlined in this decision,[74] and to which MPM was subject to, should have prevailed and should have guided the Service Provider in its actions to ensure that the Member was provided with an adequate account of the underlying investments within her portfolio.

The provision of adequate details on the underlying investments could have ultimately enabled the Complainant to highlight much earlier any issues with respect to the transactions undertaken and, in that way, she could not have complained that she was unaware and did not consent to the dealing. The matter relating to the dealing instructions was only raised by the Complainant when it was too late for any concrete action to be taken as CWM had already ceased trading by then.

Causal link and Synopsis of main aspects

The actual cause of the losses experienced by the Complainant on her account within the Retirement Scheme cannot just be attributed to the under-performance of the investments as a result of general market and investment risks and/or the issues alleged against one of the structured note providers, as MPM has inter alia suggested in these proceedings.

There is sufficient and convincing evidence of deficiencies on the part of MPM in the undertaking of its obligations and duties as Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator of the Scheme as amply highlighted above which, at the very least, impinge on the diligence it was required and reasonably expected to be exercised in such roles.

It is also evidently clear that such deficiencies prevented the losses from being minimised and in a way contributed in part to the losses experienced. The actions and inactions that occurred, as explained in this decision, enabled such losses to result within the Scheme, leading to the Scheme's failure to achieve its key objective.

Had MPM undertaken its role adequately and as duly expected from it, in terms of the obligations resulting from the law, regulations and rules stipulated thereunder and the conditions to which it was subject to in terms of its own Retirement Scheme documentation as explained above, such losses would have been avoided or mitigated accordingly.

The actual cause of the losses is indeed linked to and cannot be separated from the actions and/or inactions of key parties involved with the Scheme, with MPM being one of such parties.

In the particular circumstances of the cases reviewed, the losses experienced on the Retirement Scheme are ultimately tied, connected and attributed to events that have been allowed to occur within the Retirement Scheme which MPM was duty bound and reasonably in a position to prevent, stop and adequately raise as appropriate with the Complainant.

Final remarks

As indicated earlier, the role of a retirement scheme administrator and trustee does not end, or is just strictly and solely limited, to the compliance of the specified rules. The wider aspects of its key role and responsibilities as a trustee and scheme administrator must also be kept into context.

Whilst the Retirement Scheme Administrator was not responsible to provide investment advice to the Complainant, the Retirement Scheme Administrator had clear duties to check and ensure that the portfolio composition recommended by the investment adviser provided a suitable level of diversification and was inter alia in line with the applicable requirements in order to ensure that the portfolio composition was one enabling the aim of the Retirement Scheme to be achieved with the necessary prudence required in respect of a pension scheme. The oversight function is an essential aspect in the context of personal retirement schemes as part of the safeguards supporting the objective of retirement schemes.

It is considered that, had there been a careful consideration of the contested structured products and extent of exposure to such products and their issuers, the Service Provider would and should have intervened, queried, challenged and raised concerns on the portfolio composition recommended and not allow the overall risky position to be taken in structured products as this ran counter to the objectives of the retirement scheme and was not in the Complainant's best interests amongst others.

The Complainant ultimately relied on MPM as the Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator of the Scheme as well as other parties within the Scheme's structure, to achieve the scope for which the pension arrangement was undertaken, that is, to provide for retirement benefits and also reasonably expect a return to safeguard her pension.

Whilst losses may indeed occur on investments within a portfolio, a properly diversified and balanced and prudent approach, as expected in a pension portfolio, should have mitigated any individual losses and, at the least, maintain rather than substantially reduce the original capital invested.

For the reasons amply explained, it is accordingly considered that there was, at the very least, a clear lack of diligence by the Service Provider in the general administration of the Scheme in respect of the Complainant and in carrying out its duties as Trustee, particularly when it came to the dealings and aspects involving the appointed investment adviser; the oversight functions with respect to the Scheme and portfolio structure; as well as the reporting to the Complainant on her underlying portfolio.

It is also considered that there are various instances which indicate non-compliance by the Service Provider with applicable requirements and obligations as amply explained above in this decision. The Service Provider failed to act with the prudence, diligence and attention of a bonus paterfamilias.[75]

The Arbiter also considers that the Service Provider did not meet the 'reasonable and legitimate expectations'[76] of the Complainant who had placed her trust in the Service Provider and others, believing in their professionalism and their duty of care and diligence.

Conclusion

For the above-stated reasons, the Arbiter considers the complaint to be fair, equitable and reasonable in the particular circumstances and substantive merits of the case[77] and is accepting it in so far as it is compatible with this decision.

Cognisance needs to be taken, however, of the responsibilities of other parties involved with the Scheme and its underlying investments, particularly, the role and responsibilities of the investment adviser to the Member of the Scheme. Hence, having carefully considered the case in question, the Arbiter considers that the Service Provider is to be only partially held responsible for the losses incurred.

Compensation

Being mindful of the key role of Momentum Pensions Malta Limited as Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator of the Momentum Malta Retirement Trust, and in view of the deficiencies identified in the obligations emanating from such roles as amply explained above, which deficiencies are considered to have prevented the losses from being minimised and in a way contributed in part to the losses experienced on the Retirement Scheme, the Arbiter concludes that the Complainant should be compensated by Momentum Pensions Malta Limited for part of the net realised losses on her pension portfolio.

[75] Cap. 331 of the Laws of Malta, Art. 21(1)
[76] Cap. 555, Article 19(3)(c)
[77] Cap. 555, Article 19(3)(b)

In the particular circumstances of this case, considering that the Service Provider had the last word on the investments and acted in its dual role of Trustee and Retirement Scheme Administrator, the Arbiter considers it fair, equitable and reasonable for Momentum Pensions Malta Limited, to be held responsible for seventy per cent of the net realised losses sustained by the Complainant on her investment portfolio as stipulated hereunder.

The Arbiter notes that the latest valuation and list of transactions provided by the Service Provider in respect of the Complainant is not current. Besides, no detailed breakdown was provided regarding the status and performance of the respective investments within the disputed portfolio of the Complainant.

The Arbiter shall accordingly formulate how compensation is to be calculated by the Service Provider for the Complainant for the purpose of this decision.

Given that the Complaint made by the Complainant principally relates to the losses suffered on the Scheme at the time of Continental Wealth Management acting as adviser, compensation shall be provided solely on the investment portfolio existing and constituted under Continental Wealth Management in relation to the Scheme.

The Service Provider is accordingly being directed to pay the Complainant compensation equivalent to 70% of the sum of the Net Realised Loss incurred within the whole portfolio of underlying investments existing and constituted under Continental Wealth Management and allowed within the Retirement Scheme by the Service Provider.

The Net Realised Loss calculated on such portfolio shall be determined as at the date of this decision and calculated as follows:

(i) For every such investment within the said portfolio which, at the date of this decision, no longer forms part of the Member's current investment portfolio (given that such investment has matured, been terminated or redeemed and duly settled), it shall be calculated any realised loss or profit resulting from the difference in the purchase value and the sale/maturity value (amount realised) inclusive of any realised currency gains and losses.

Any realised loss so calculated on such investment shall be reduced by the amount of any total interest or other total income received from the respective investment throughout the holding period to determine the actual amount of realised loss, if any;

With respect to the investments which were made prior to membership and which were accepted and retained by MPM within the Scheme's portfolio following membership, reference should not be made to the purchase value but the value applicable for these investment as at the date of assignment of the SEB Policy to MPM. Accordingly, for these investments it shall be calculated any realised loss or profit resulting from the difference in the value of such investments and their sale/maturity value (amount realised).

Similarly, any realised loss on such investments calculated over the aforesaid period shall be reduced by the amount of any total interest or other total income received from such investments throughout the holding period. The holding period shall comprise the date from when such investments constituted part of the Retirement Scheme's portfolio until the sale of these investments.

(ii) In case where an investment in (i) above is calculated to have rendered a profit after taking into consideration the amount realised (inclusive of any total interest or other total income received from the respective investment and any realised currency gains or losses), such realised profit shall be accumulated from all such investments and netted off against the total of all the realised losses from the respective investments calculated as per (i) above to reach the figure of the Net Realised Loss within the indicated portfolio.

The computation of the Net Realised Loss shall accordingly take into consideration any realised gains or realised losses arising within the portfolio, as at the date of this decision.

In case where any currency conversion/s is/are required for the purpose of (a) finally netting any realised profits/losses within the portfolio which remain denominated in different currencies, and/or (b) crystallising any remaining currency positions initiated at the time of Continental Wealth Management, such conversion shall, if and where applicable, be made at the spot exchange rate sourced from the European Central Bank and prevailing on the date of this decision.

Such a direction on the currency conversion is only being given in the very particular circumstances of such cases for the purposes of providing clarity and enabling the calculation of the compensation formulated in this decision and avoid future unnecessary controversy.

(iii) Investments which were constituted under Continental Wealth Management in relation to the Scheme and are still held within the current portfolio of underlying investments as at, or after, the date of this decision are not the subject of the compensation stipulated above. This is without prejudice to any legal remedies the Complainant might have in future with respect to such investments.

In accordance with Article 26(3)(c)(iv) of Chapter 555 of the Laws of Malta, the Arbiter orders Momentum Pensions Malta Limited to pay the indicated amount of compensation to the Complainant.

A full and transparent breakdown of the calculations made by the Service Provider in respect of the compensation as decided in this decision, should be provided to the Complainant.

With legal interest from the date of this decision till the date of payment.

Because of the novelty of this case, each party is to bear its own legal costs of these proceedings.
