

Before the Arbiter for Financial Services

Case ASF 070/2026

AB

(‘Complainant’)

Vs

OpenPayd Financial Services Malta Limited

(C 75580)

(‘Service Provider’ or ‘OpenPayd’)

Sitting of 23 March 2026

This Complaint¹ filed on 23 February 2026 relates to payments totalling €66,700 which Complainant sent to what he believed was an account he had with OpenPayd. The latter effectively credited the funds to the holder of the Virtual IBAN number indicated in the transfer payments which is a licenced crypto exchange based in Malta.

Complainant seeks full compensation for €66,700 from OpenPayd as he claims, *“These funds were misappropriated in connection with a trading arrangement, and OpenPayd failed in its duty to safeguard them.”*²

The Arbiter refers to the preliminary plea raised in the reply³ of OpenPayd challenging his competence to hear this complaint on the basis that Complainant is not an eligible customer in terms of the definition of Article 2 of CAP. 555 of the Laws of Malta (The Act) that codifies the operation of this Arbitration.

Decision re Preliminary Plea

Article 22(2) of the ACT stipulates that:

¹ Pages p. 1 - 12 and attachments p. 13 - 41

³ P. 45 - 54

“Upon receipt of a complaint, the Arbiter shall determine whether the complaint falls within his competence.”

Moreover, in virtue of Article 19(1) of the Act, the Arbiter can only deal with complaints filed by eligible customers:

“It shall be the primary function of the Arbiter to deal with complaints filed by eligible customers through the means of mediation in accordance with Article 24 and where necessary, by investigation and adjudication.”

The Act stipulates further that:

“Without prejudice to the functions of the Arbiter under this Act, it shall be the function of the Office:

(a) To deal with complaints filed by eligible customer.”⁴

Eligible customer

Article 2 of the Act, at the time when the reported transactions took place, defines an “eligible customer” as follows:

“a customer who is a consumer of a financial services provider, or to whom the financial services provider has offered to provide a financial service, or who has sought the provision of a financial service from a financial services provider.”

The Arbiter, before proceeding to hear evidence on the merits of the case, has to primarily decide whether the Complainant is in fact an eligible customer in terms of the Act. The Arbiter would not be competent to adjudicate the complaint unless the Complainant qualifies as an eligible customer.

On a similar issue in case reference ASF 155/2024,⁵ the Arbiter had decreed that as the beneficiary was clearly indicated as being the remitter himself, the Arbiter did not accept that the Complainant:

“Never sought the provision of a financial service from OPFS.”

⁴ Article 11(1)(a)

The Arbiter accordingly had decreed that the Complainant in case ASF 155/2024 qualifies as an eligible customer and proceeded to adjudicate the case.

The said decision was appealed by OpenPayd. On 25 February 2026, the Court of Appeal revoked the Arbiter's decision in case ASF 155/2024 and decided that the Arbiter should have declared incompetence to adjudicate the case, as it considered Complainant not compliant with the definition of 'eligible customer' in terms of Article 2 of the ACT.⁶

As the circumstances of this case, insofar as the preliminary plea is concerned, are intrinsically similar to that applicable for ASF 155/2024, and in view of the above-cited decision of the Court of Appeal, the Arbiter decrees that he has no competence to hear the case and hereby upholds the preliminary plea raised by the Service Provider in their reply.

This Complaint is therefore dismissed on the basis of the Arbiter's incompetence to adjudicate it, and parties are to bear their own costs of these proceedings.
